TASTING NOTES

Saint-Péray Fleur De Crussol offers impressive depth and richness, as well as complexity, in its aromas and flavors of stone fruits, marmalade and spices. It is well-balanced depth on the mid-palate.

PRODUCTION NOTES

This cuvée was created in 1999 by Alain Voge with the friendly help of the late Daniel Denis, a sommelier from Lyon and a great ambassador for Rhône Valley wines. The Crussol massif, from which this cuvée takes its name, is of great importance to the Saint-Péray AOC, providing the limestone elements essential to the production of great white wines.
